

Please join us in toasting the success of four graduates of the RCC's "Environment & Society" doctoral program who all recently defended their doctoral theses: Barbara Brandl, Sebastian Kistler, Julia Blanc, and Amir Zelinger.

Students of the RCC'S Environmental Studies Certificate Program will then present their final projects:

Maria Bekiari

The Eco Board Game: Human-Environment Relations

Anne Drexler

Our Future Cities: A 3D Computer Simulation

Konstantin Engelbrecht & Michael Stehling

Environmental Conflicts in Bavaria: Perception and Complexity

Orsolya Földesi

Ornament or Commodity: Seven Ways of Seeing Cut Flowers

David Grothe

More than a Drug: Hemp as a Natural Resource

Kyrill Hirner

Picturing Detroit: Can We Come From Ruin Porn to Ruin Nudes?

Michaela Hofmann

Of Birds and Bees: Information at Munich's Botanical Garden

Dorothea Hutterer

Beer Landscapes: The Environmental History of Beer

Jana Jung-Irrgang

Revolution in Dialogue: Transformative Environmental Activism

Patrick Lödige

Future of Transport: Tesla is Changing the Way We Build Cars

Julie Weissmann

Endangered Plants of the Azores: A Photographic Case Study

Lea Wiser

Weed or Feed: Eco-Friendly Recipes With Wild Herbs

Stephanye Zarama-Alvarado

A Golden Curse: Environmental Impacts of Amazonian Gold Mining