NATIONAL ANTHEMS

Arise, O compatriots, Nigeria's call obey
To serve our fatherland
With love and strength and faith
The labour of our heroes past
Shall never be in vain
To serve with heart and might
One nation bound in freedom,
peace and unity.

Oh God of creation,
direct our noble cause
Guide our leader's right
Help our youth the truth to know
In love and honesty to grow
And living just and true
Great lofty heights attain
To build a nation where peace
and justice shall reign.

A BRIEF ON GASDI

John Agbonifo, Ph.D

Director, Global Affairs and Sustainable Development Institute

The Global Affairs and Sustainable Development Institute (GASDI) was established by the Senate of Osun State University in October, 2018 with a mandate to address issues of Sustainable Development in unique and effective ways that can fast-track the attainment of the Sustainable Development Goals. The aim of the Institute is to become a center of excellence in postgraduate teaching and research in all areas of sustainable development.

To this end, the GASDI offers Master and Ph.D. degree programmes in:

- (i) Sustainable Development Practice,
- (ii) Indigenous Knowledge and Heritage Studies,
- (iii) Peace and Conflict Studies,
- (iv) Climate and Society, and
- (v) Migration Studies
- (vi) Environmental Management
- (vii) Disaster and Risk Management

Situated at the core of Yoruba culture and tradition, the Institute undertake and pursue research and other initiatives on Yoruba and the world. Also, we run short duration certificate courses in these fields/programmes, provide consultancies as well as conduct workshops to improve the efficiency of governmental and non-governmental organizations.

In keeping with our mandate, this international sustainable development dialogue brings together world-renowned scholars and other stakeholders in an effort to deepen the discourse and practice of sustainable development. The theme of the dialogue is Making and Unmaking Africa: Global Developments and Environmental Humanities. The Keynote Address was delivered by Professor Sandra Swart, Chair Department of History, Stellenbosch University, South Africa.

A BRIEF ON RCC.

The Rachel Carson Center for Environment and Society (RCC) is an international center dedicated to the study of environment and society from a wealth of different disciplines and international perspectives. A nonprofit institution, the RCC was founded in 2009 as a joint initiative of Munich's Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität and the Deutsches Museum, funded by the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research as a Center for Advanced Study (Käte Hamburger Kolleg). The RCC features graduate programs: a structured doctoral program "Environment and Society" (ProEnviron), an international doctoral program "Rethinking Environment" (IDK) in cooperation with the University of Augsburg, an MA certificate in Environmental Studies, and a newly introduced MA in Environment in Society. The Center hosts numerous research projects, funded by the German Research Foundation (DFG), the European Research Council (ERC), the Volkswagen Foundation, the Federal Ministry for Research and Education (BMBF), and others. It also hosts visiting scholars, international Landhaus Fellows, and visiting doctoral students.

Professor Dr. Christof Mauch

Director, Rachel Carson Center for Environment and Society, Ludwig Maximilian University,
Munich, Germany

Our namesake is the American biologist, nature writer, and environmentalist Rachel Carson, whose writing raised awareness worldwide about threats to the environment and human health. While we are based in Munich, Germany, our staff and fellows come from all over the world and our working language is English. Our mission is to advance research and discussion concerning the interrelationship between humans and nature. The Rachel Carson Center offers a variety of positions from fellowships for senior scholars to internships.

A BRIEF ON ROSA LUXEMBURG STIFTUNG (RLS)

The Rosa Luxemburg Stiftung is a political education institution with offices in Africa, the Americas, Asia, Europe and the Middle East. LRS seeks to contribute to the construction of a more democratic and egalitarian society, promoting research, reflection and debates on capitalism alternatives. It advocates for a dialogue between the North and the Global South, based on equality. With the help of the Historic Centre for Democratic Socialism in Berlin, it also documents important historical events and achievements of the entire political left.

Since its foundation in 1990, the Foundation's work has connected to the legacy of its namesake, the Polish-German socialist leader Rosa Luxemburg, and seeks to represent democratic socialism with an internationalist approach. RSL is committed to a radical perspective that emphasizes public awareness and social criticism, we adhere to the tradition of workers' and women's movements, as well as anti-colonialism and anti-racism.

It is one of the German non-profit political foundations, linked to the Left Party (Die Linke, in German). Since 2000, our international cooperation and solidarity initiatives have been supported by the Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Germany. The Scholarship Department supports young academics from all over the world with financial grants and other forms of assistance, seeking to develop and expand the concept of political education, emphasizing a critical analysis of society as our central task.

A BRIEF ON ANEH

The African Network of Environmental Humanities (ANEH) is a new multidisciplinary scholarly association, which aims at promoting environmental humanities scholarship in Africa. ANEH is composed of researchers in the humanities, social sciences and the sciences, who share a common passion to explore and understand through the prism of the humanities the nexus between human societies and the environment. The Network, currently funded by the Rachel Carson Centre for Environment and Society (RCC), emerged to fill a lack of environmental humanities scholarship in and about Africa on the global stage. ANEH aims to narrow the gap by building and sustaining a community of researchers dedicated to studying African societies and their environments.

Panel Participants at the ANEH Table;
Alumni Fellow John Agbonifo is third from right.

The African Network of Environmental Humanities (ANEH) was founded by alumni fellow John Agbonifo. The ANEH, with the generous support of the Rachel Carson Centre for Environment and Society, announced its presence during the international conference of the African Studies Association of Africa (ASAA) held in 2015 at the University of Ibadan, Nigeria. At the conference, ANEH hosted a panel on “Discovering Environmental Humanities: Recovering the Environment in Africa and the African in the Environment.” Panelists presented a range of empirically informed papers on diverse aspects of the environment, dovetailing with the theme of the conference: “African Studies in the 21st Century: Past, Present and Future.”

At the event, John Agbonifo traced the genesis of the idea of the ANEH to RCC director Christof Mauch and the moral and material support of the RCC.
